

TRAVEL ADVISORY COURTESY OF:
NAVY WEATHER
VALID: 23-24 MAR 00
next update:
As Conditions Warrant

AREA 1: This area can expect rain throughout Thursday accompanied by strong gusty winds. The rain can be expected to change to snow by late Friday evening, with gusty winds and reduced visibility. Chains will be required on most roads in the mountains.

AREA 2: Potential exists for Heavy rain and gusty winds throughout the area Thursday. The rain will change to moderate snow by Friday evening, expect isolated gusts up to 50 knots and reduced visibility to accompany this system. Road conditions will degrade by late Friday as cooler temperatures dominate.

AREA 3: On Thursday evening, higher elevations can expect heavy snow with reduced visibility, and gusty winds. Sections of expressways may be closed or require traction device. Southern and coastal areas can expect rain Thursday changing to snow by late Friday,